City Christmas tree lighting set for Dec. 7

MARATHON, FL (Nov. 18, 2026) – The holiday season is upon us, and following Thanksgiving, celebrations throughout the city and the county are being held nearly every weekend.

Next up for the City of Marathon is the Parks and Recreation Department's annual Christmas tree lighting, set for Monday, Dec. 7, at 6:30 p.m., at Marathon Community Park.

This free event, which brings together the community in celebration of the holiday season, will also feature a special Art in the Park session, which begins at 5:30.

Visitors will be able show off their artistic talents by painting festive holiday buoys, which they can take home or place them on the city's Lobster Trap tree.

Bring your family, friends, and your holiday spirit as we light up our beautiful Christmas tree and celebrate the holiday season.

Drinks, cookies and snacks will be available, as well as photos with Santa, which will surely inspire some impromptu Christmas caroling.
