"This relocation reflects our continued commitment to fiscal responsibility and the efficient use of taxpayer dollars," Hodies said in a news release. "Because Monroe County owns the new building, this move will produce savings equal to more than 2% of our operating budget.

"We are excited about this new chapter for the Monroe County Supervisor of Elections Office," Hodies continued. "We look forward to continuing to serve the voters and residents of Marathon and communities throughout Monroe County from our new location."

The building, on U.S. 1, oceanside, near Mile Marker 48, also houses the Monroe County State Attorney's Office serving the Middle Keys.

The current Marathon office, at 10015 Overseas Highway in the 100th Street Center, will be closed from Monday, Nov. 30, to Sunday, Jan. 3, to accommodate the relocation.

The new office will open Monday, Jan. 4, and will serve as an early voting site.

An open house will be scheduled at a later date.
