"Inventory is the biggest factor."

For a while there was no or very little inventory, but that is coming back, according to Derek Ipperly, president of the Key West Realtors Association.

Last year, the average number of days a home was on the market was 79; this year it is 43, said Ipperly.

Last year, the list average price in Key West was $1.3 million and this year it is $1.6 million; the sale average was $1.1 million last year and $1.3 million this year, Ipperly said.

"I think the market will normalize, which is still a good market locally, but we won't continue to see the 54% rising home values we have seen in the last couple years," Ipperly said.

Keys-wide, sale prices increased from an average of $935,000 last year to $1.1 million this year, Langley said.

While the increases are good for local government agencies preparing their budgets and for sellers, it is another sign of how unaffordable the Keys have become for workers and their families.

The Assessments were originally imposed in 2008, 2009, and 2011 to fund construction of wastewater collection and treatment facilities. The assessment for each parcel of property is based, in part, on the number of equivalent dwelling units attributable to such parcel, and, in part, on the number of connections attributable to such parcel. Unless provided, the annual assessment will include your share of the principal, interest and collection cost. The maximum annual assessment is estimated to be $415 per EDU and $24 per connection for Service Areas 1, 3, 4, 5, 6 & 7, and Little Venice is levied at $308.82 per connection. A more specific description is set forth in the Initial Assessment Resolution adopted by the City Council on June 24, 2008 and June 9, 2009. Copies of the Initial Assessment Resolution, the plans and specifications for the wastewater collection and treatment facilities, and the preliminary Assessment Roll are available for inspection at the offices of the City Manager, located at 9805 Overseas Highway, Marathon, Florida.

The assessments will be collected on the ad valorem tax bill, as authorized by Section 197.3632, Florida Statutes. Failure to pay the assessments will cause a tax certificate to be issued against the property which may result in a loss of title. The City Council intends to collect the assessments in not to exceed biweekly (20) annual assessments, the first of which was included on the ad valorem tax bill mailed in November 2020. Future annual assessments may be prepaid at the option of the property owner.
